She then had him ejected from the office. His parting observation was that he always carried a rehim again until to-day, when he figured as would-be-assassinator of President Garfield.

PROM A PAMILY STANDPOINT. CHICAGO, July 2.—George Scoville, Esq., a well known attorney-at-law in this city, gives the following sketch of Guiteau. Charles Julius Guiteau is my wife's youngest brother and is about 40 years of age. He was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., or Freeport, Ills., I don't know which. His family moved to Freeport about 40 years ago. While quite young Charles, or Julius, as he was called, was ambitious in his ideas. He was sent to Ann Arbor, but becoming infat-uated with the doctrines of the Oneida community he left college and joined them. He put all his money, some $5,000 or $6,000, into the community. He also became dissatisfied with that society. They were similarly af-fected toward him because he would not work, but wanted to study years he ran away. I then assisted him with money. This supported him until the community had given him back part of the money he had invested with them. With this he went to New York and cerning the second advent of Christ, which he claimed had really taken place. He reached the end of his credit in New York in 1869 and gave up the paper and to-day will say: "The general came on to Chicago.
